Student Body Dance Friday Night From 10 To 1 In Men's Gym; First Social Affair In Two Weeks

'A Campus Moon'

Because one performance of "Arsenic and Old Lace" takes place Friday night, the student body dance planned for that evening will be held from 10 to 1, instead of 9 to 12 as was formerly announced.

This change of time will enable students to attend the play and still get to the dance in time to have a full evening under the "Campus Moon."

Bringing out the "Full Moon" theme will be the decorations in the Men's gym, site of the dance, according to Chairman Beverly Greer. A replica of the famous Tower, and potted palm trees will transform the gym into a miniature quad, complete with full moon and other features of a spring evening.

Bill Bristol, recently released from quarantine, will be on hand with his varied supply of sweet, swing, and blues records.

Social Affairs Head Jo Harrison urges all students to attend the dance, which is expected to be a morale booster. It will be the first social affair held on-campus in over two weeks, states Miss Harrison, and a maximum turnout is anticipated.

Open to all members of the college, the dance will be free to student body card holders. Outsiders will be charged the customary 40 cents. Miss Harrison also pointed out that the dance will be strictly a date affair, with no stags admitted.

A minimum amount of entertainment is being planned for the evening, with dancing the main attraction.

Miss Harrison urges all students, particularly men, to make arrangements with her to be property men, decorators, etc., because the manpower shortage has resulted in decreasing the number of people on the Arrangements committee.

V-1, V-7 Men! Read Carefully

Due to a complete misinterpretation of the beginning statements made in yesterday's story concerning Navy V-1 and V-7 men, Dean Paul Pitman yesterday put in a plea for more accurate observation by students of the material printed in the Daily.

The Spartan Daily editorial staff suggests that a more careful reading of the paper will greatly eliminate the chances for confusion similar to that which existed in the Dean of Men's office yesterday.

Stock Exchange Explained Today

Business and Economic lecture at 12 o'clock today in room 139. Mr. H. H. "Buck" Buchanan, co-manager of Sutro's company, will talk on The Working of the Stock Exchange.

West Coast School Of Nature Study Postponed Due To War Conditions; Field Trips Covered Much Of California

Due to war conditions, the West Coast School of Nature Study, for 12 years official field school of State's summer session, will not be held this year, announced Dr. P. Victor Peterson, Science department head, yesterday.

The course, designed to give instruction in geology, bird study, study of animals other than birds, insects, trees, and wild-flowers, was presented in a series of field trips to various parts of the state.

Beginning with only 75 students and a ten-days trip to Big Basin in 1931, the school grew in its 12 years of existence to an enrollment of 2000 pupils, mostly teachers, and San Jose State under-graduates.

ATTENTION!

All pre-medical and pre-dental students in both the Army and Navy programs should see Dean Paul Pitman as soon as possible.

TRACK RALLY IN QUAD FRIDAY TO HONOR TEAM

Track men will be honored at the rally to be held Friday, April 30, in the Quad at 12:35. San Jose's track team will meet Stanford at Stanford May 1. This rally will enable all State students to meet members of the team, as most of the men will be introduced at that time.

Ed Kincaid will act as master of ceremonies during the rally. Although the program will not start until after 12:30, Bill Bristol will have his records in the Quad for the whole noon hour.

Members of the Rally committee are to meet in the Student Union at 12:30 today to arrange all details of the Friday rally.

Mrs. Kingman Will Speak Tonight At Student Center

Speaking before a supper group tonight in the Student Center is Mrs. Harry Kingman, commenting on behalf of the Committee for American Principles and Fair Play in Berkeley on the legal rights of minority groups.

Everyone is invited to attend this supper, which is sponsored by the Committee of Japanese-American students of the Student Christian association. It will be at 5:45 and will cost 30 cents.

Kay Sandholdt is in charge of the affair and tickets may be obtained from her or at the door. If a person wishes to pay at the door he should first make a reservation by phoning Miss Jean Thoits at Columbia 4821-W.

Most striking feature of the school is its varied location. In 1931 it was in Big Basin. From Big Basin it went to Asilomar on the Monterey peninsula in 1932. In 1933 it was held at Sequoia National Park. Fallen Leaf lake was the site in 1934 as well as an extra session at Big Basin again.

Three locations in 1935 included Hartsook's on the Redwood highway, Asilomar, and Sequoia National Park again. Big Basin, Lake county, and Yosemite shared the school in 1936. In the spring of 1937, during the Easter vacation, the school moved to Death Valley National Monument. The summer of 1937 saw the school at Idle Wild, Sequoia, and Fallen Leaf Lake.

Yosemite National Park and Asilomar played host to the nature students in 1938. In 1939 it was held at Fallen Leaf Lake, Mammoth Lake, and Sequoia National Park. Nineteen-forty saw the school back at Death Valley, Yosemite, Asilomar, and Lassen National Park. Fallen Leaf and Sequoia shared honors in 1941, and last year the school was held in Death Valley and Fallen Leaf Lake.

Field staff on these trips has included Dr. Peterson, chemistry professor; Dr. Gayle Pickwell, professor of zoology; Dr. Karl Hazeltine, professor of nature study; Fred E. Buss, professor of geology; Miss Emily Smith, instructor in nature study; Dr. Carl Duncan, professor of entomology and biology, and Dr. Gertrude Witherpoon, instructor in chemistry.

The West Coast school is the oldest of its kind in the United States, and will be instituted here again after the war, according to Dr. Peterson.

Piano And Cello Recital May 4

Students of Mr. Benning Dexter and Mr. Alexander Reisman will give a recital of cello and piano in the Little Theater, Tuesday, May 4, at 8:15.

Some of the selections that will be played are Sonata in B flat, by Mozart; Prelude and Fugue D major, by Bach; Mazurka, by Chopin; Notturmo by Respighi, and others. The admission is free.

'ARSENIC AND OLD LACE' PRAISED BY NOTED REVIEWERS; COLLEGE PERFORMANCES BEGIN THURSDAY

"Frightfully funny. A hilarious thriller that raises your hair and then the roof," says Anderson of the Journal-American in his review of the record breaking comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace," to be enacted in the Little Theater Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Curtain time is 8:30 and tickets are on sale in the Speech office for 30 cents for students and 55 cents general admission.

Joseph Kesselring's dramatic farce of the antics of two kindly old ladies who nonchalantly serve elderberry wine, seasoned with arsenic, to lonely old men to put them out of their misery was received with the greatest acclaim by drama critics all over the United States.

Fireworks At S. C. Meeting Tonight Out; Election Date Is Unconstitutional

Last week's Student Council action in setting May 26 and May 28 as the dates for ASB elections has been found to be unconstitutional and as a result the fireworks expected at tonight's session scheduled for 7:30 in the Student Union will not materialize.

Student Body President Tom Taylor discovered that in Article IV the constitution states the definite time ASB elections can be held.

Article IV, Section 1. The nominations of the councilors of the Associated Students shall take place at a general assembly during the sixth week preceding the close of spring quarter. A petition of nomination, signed by 25 members of the Associated Students must be on file in the President's office by Wednesday of the same week.

Clause 1. The list of nominees shall be posted on the official bulletin board and printed in the Spartan Daily at least three days previous to elections.

Hoyt H. Hudson Will Be Speaker At Phelan Program

Dr. Hoyt Hopewell Hudson, professor of English at Stanford university, will be the speaker at the awards program of the Phelan contest here on May 25, announces Dr. Raymond W. Barry, head of the English department.

Speaking on a phase of creative writing, Dr. Hudson will present the winners of the annual Phelan awards with their checks. Prizes are to be given in the following divisions: short story, lyric poetry, free verse, and sonnet.

Formerly head of the English department at Princeton university, Dr. Hudson received his A.B. from Huron college in South Dakota in 1911, his M.A. from the University of Denver in 1913, and his doctor of philosophy degree from Cornell university in 1923. As professor of rhetoric and oratory, he became chairman of the English department of Princeton university in 1933.

Books written by him include "First Course in Public Speaking" written with J. A. Winan, and "Principles of Argument and Debate" written with J. W. Reeves. Since 1931 he has been managing editor of The Step Ladder, literary magazine. From 1933-1935 he edited The Quarterly Journal of Speech.

"The most riotously hilarious comedy of the season. — Watts, Herald-Tribune.

"So side-splitting and terrific it can be guaranteed to make even dramatic critics care for the theater. Just when it is threatening to make you scream with terror, it compels you to scream with laughter."—Brown, N. Y. Post.

"The audience howled itself red in the face. A swell farce, expertly staged, brilliantly played. — Mantle, News.

"A masterpiece! It will scare the whiskers off you and then blast you with laughter!"—Cue Magazine.

"It's screamingly funny. The theater, which is several thousand years old, has never produced anything quite like 'Arsenic and Old Lace.'"—Kronenberger, P. M.

"Let's not exaggerate. At some time there may have been a funnier murder charade than 'Arsenic and Old Lace,' but the supposition is purely academic. For Joseph Kesselring has written one so funny that none of us will ever forget it."

After such reviews as these, it is not exactly hard to see that the play is good, to put it simply, and with such dramatists as Alice Modry, Eleanor Wagner, Ben McCreath, Bill Kidwell, Jack Hume, Milt Brietzke, Jeanette Thimann, Keith Thomas, Bailey Tudder, Peter Mingrone of the Speech department, and Frank Callahan, State's night watchman, the performances ought to break all laugh records in the Little Theater.

Freshman Class Holds First Event

Splashing around in the Roosevelt Junior High school pool Thursday evening will be the Freshman class in their first social event of the quarter.

Swimming will last from 5 to 7 p.m. and will cost 10 cents. Everyone should bring their own suit, and towel, and girls should bring a bathing cap.

Around a camp fire, box lunches will be served, and Dr. Robert Rhodes, freshman class adviser, will lead the group in community singing accompanied by his guitar. Suppers will be 25 cents, and milk will sell for five cents.

Dancing will be held from 8 to 11, and dancers will be able to wear shoes, says Jack Riserer, co-chairman of the dance. Music will be off-the-record.

Book Exchange Opens Tomorrow

The Book Exchange will reopen tomorrow from 10 o'clock to 1 o'clock. Those students having any claims on the Exchange are being asked to come and get them at this time.

Marie Hayes, president of the organization, stated that this has been a very successful year for the Exchange, and they wish to get all the business cleared up before the newly elected officers take over their duties.

CAMPUS CLEANLINESS

We're off again on that old theme—KEEP THE CAMPUS CLEAN!

There are fewer students here at State this year than there have been for a long time, but those few seem to be making good time in keeping the quad cluttered up with empty boxes, bags, and papers. If you must eat your lunch on-campus, try to clean up after yourself—we're proud of our school, and we want to keep it looking spic and span. If everybody helps, we'll succeed.

The culprits who persist in scattering the remains of their lunches all over the lawn are in all probability new students, who don't yet know the "do's and don'ts" of San Jose State college. So we'll take this opportunity to inform them that, along with the "no smoking in the quad" rule, we also have a "keep the campus clean" rule.

It shouldn't be difficult to put papers and empty wrappers back in the bag or box they came in, and to carry the whole to any of the waste cans situated around the campus on the way to class.

So let's watch it, and help to keep Washington Square as neat as possible, so that not only we who are at school now, but all the visiting Spartans in the service can be proud of it. Start today! Keep the Campus Clean!

—Reynolds.

Secretary is needed to work one week in a law firm beginning May 1 to fill in on a vacation job.

Unknown Germs Cause Trouble For State Students

It may be the gremlins, or it may be nasty little unknown microbes, but whatever has been causing the trouble, the Health office the past few days has been receiving a thin but steady stream of Staters complaining of nausea.

That's all, just nausea. No other symptoms are present, insists Miss Margaret Twombly, head of the Department of Health and Hygiene, but the students are sometimes ill enough to vomit several times a day.

According to Miss Twombly, so far no one has been ill enough to require hospitalization, and students complaining are still on-campus.

So the indefinable illness has been classed as just a "gastro-intestinal disturbance."

Tropical Art Shop

Have you been to the Tropical Art Shop yet? This is a brand new shop on East San Fernando. It is the ideal place to get all your new gifts. After War Plans Made For New Music Building

By BOB CREIGHTON

Plans for the new Music building, to be constructed after the war, have caused a flurry of comments from department members. It seems that these plans are a musician's dream come true.

This new building will be built in the shape of a giant H, according to the plans. The fore part of the building will be composed of reception rooms and offices for the staff. There will also be classrooms for Music History and Music Theory on the same floor.

Above this floor there will be sound-proof practice rooms for voice students. No longer will there be hideous sounds floating across the campus from the direction of the Music building.

Forming the center part of the H will be a great sound-proof auditorium, with all modern fixtures. This will be equal in size to the Morris Dailey auditorium, and will permit the band and symphony orchestra to hold concerts in their new building.

Home Ec Majors Receive Dietetic Intern Positions

Dolores Stratton, senior home economics major from Dinuba, has been accepted by Mills college as a dietetic interne for administrative work, announces Dr. Margaret C. Jones, head of the Home Economic department.

Eva Prudhomme, also a senior home economics major, has been selected as an alternate for a dietetic internship at the Alameda County hospital.

It will be approximately 50 practice rooms that will be completely sound proof. These practice rooms will also be air-conditioned and equipped with indirect lighting. Directly behind the practice rooms there will be a small amphitheater, in which section rehearsals may be held.

This dream has become a reality only as far as drawing the plans, but the Music department is doing everything in its power to have those plans realized. They have been approved by the state department, and as soon as the world shakes itself free from its troubles the San Jose State Music department will again take up the battle for a new Music building.

Library Receives Latest Books

Some of the latest additions to the library are the new books on war. They are on display on the main desk in the library corridor. One of the most interesting is "Flight to Arras" written by Antoine De Saint Exupery. Exupery is a flyer who with 30 other planes started out on a suicide flight, and was one of three who returned. The book is written about the flight and the narrow chance they had of returning.

The other books are: "They Were Expendable" by William L. White, "How War Came" by Raymond G. Swing, and a very worthwhile book by Winston S. Churchill entitled "The Unrelenting Struggle."

Among the books not mentioned is the famous "Mission to Moscow," which has been converted into a movie.

Will all men and women interested in renewing or earning their American Red Cross Instructor's certificate in Water Safety and Lifeguard, please sign up in the Women's gym? It will be given the last week of May or the first week in June if 10 or more sign up.—Dr. Palmer.

SCRAPS

By SEBASTIAN SQUATRITO
Feature Editor

Showered with more honors is ex-Spartan Walter J. Hanna, a 25-year-old Major in the Army Air Corps in Africa. His latest achievement was his participation in one unit of 100 sorties (individual flights) from one field on April 23.

The last time we saw or heard about him was a picture in Life Magazine as the leader of an American bomber squadron. He was a captain then. His wife and two children live at 916 North Seventh street in San Jose. His father is city engineer of Gilroy and Morgan Hill.

It's now Ensign Stu Carter for the popular basketball, soccer and football clown of Sparta. He's expected in town around the 28th.

ERC'ers Cas Breuer, Jerry Becker, and Leroy Lee —A good share of the San Jose band has been shipped here to Fresno for basic training. It is hot and dusty down here and we do mean, Hot and Dusty! Also they keep us on the hop from 5 a.m. until almost bedtime. We get up at 5:15 and lights are out at 10 p.m.

The drill field is a big flat plain-like affair, about three-fourths of a mile long and just as wide—at least it seems so. It's entirely unprotected and without an abode, and the sun really beats on us. More than one fellow passed out on the field today. We go out at 7:45 and come in 11 a.m. Then we go back at 1 p.m. and return at 5 p.m. During this time we march, march, and march. Two hours a day are devoted to calisthenics, and just before we go in, we run the obstacle course. It is plenty long and tough, and the one at State is pretty easy in comparison.

You can't get away with things here as you do at school—if you know what we mean. All in all we have seven hours of marching and exercise, then sometimes at night, as tonight, we have lecture in the barracks. So it keeps us busy.

This is all for now. The Daily hasn't arrived yet, but we are waiting patiently.

Sgt. A. H. Jensen—Those Spartan Dailies I have received from good old San Jose State have been heaven-sent.

We have moved from Ft. Lewis, Washington, down here in the desert southeast of Los Angeles, and it's really warm here—over 110 degrees right now. I sit and scribble a line, then take a sip out of my canteen.

A good friend of mine is in this outfit. He went to Ventura J. C. and knows a great many students from San Jose. He was very interested in the accounts of Thelno Knowles, the Spartan track man and home-town friend, in the Daily. Now I save each little copy (Continued on page 4)

Diamondmen In Season Finale Against Hendy Iron Men Tomorrow In Twilight Contest At Santa Clara At 5:15 P. M.

GOTTSCHANG NOMINATED TO HURL

San Jose's baseball team will put the finishing touches on their abbreviated campaign tomorrow when they move across town to play the Hendy Iron Works team in a twilight contest beginning at 5:15 p. m. in Santa Clara's Washington park. Jack Gottschang will probably receive the nod to handle the mound duties against the Iron men.

Coach Milt Lanyon announced late last week that baseball activities would have to come to an abrupt end because of OPA ruling prohibiting the use of the school bus for any more out of town athletic trips. Lanyon had several more tilts lined up but had to cancel all but the Hendy affair at the last minute.

The Hendytes have a formidable outfit headed by manager Nino Bongiovanni, former major leaguer. "Bongy" dropped out of professional baseball this year to contribute to the war effort.

Attempting to silence the bats of the locals will be Bobby Rodrigues, San Jose youth and well known semi-pro chucker in the bay region. Rodrigues is considered to be a fast ball-artist.

Lanyon expressed regret that the season has to come to this quick end because his lads have been steadily improving in their play despite the fact that he has only one regular hurler. Especially happy is he over the hitting power they have displayed in the last few games. In four of their eight games this season, they punched out 12 or more safeties, which is pretty fair clouting in anybody's league.

Tomorrow's game being the last of the season, and probably the duration, Lanyon stated that all of the boys will get to play their share of time. Abel Rodrigues, an outfielder who stepped on the rubber and handcuffed the Fresno Bulldogs in their second tilt last week, will possibly relieve Gottschang in the later innings tomorrow. Neither of these lads has been working out and will not be in good enough shape to work the whole ball game against the seasoned Iron Men.

Bariteau Defeats Pieper In Match

Jack Bariteau, number one man on Bill Hubbard's golf squad, is making quite a reputation for himself in local amateur circles.

While the Spartan stickers have been idle, waiting for their first match of the season Saturday morning with Stanford, Jack has been collecting some honors on his own hook out at the San Jose Golf and Country club.

Last Sunday he won his semi-final round match with Ernie Pieper, in the country club championship tournament. Pieper is one of the best amateurs in the state, and once held the California title—and so the victory was an important upward step in Bariteau's career.

He still has one match between him and the title, but is expected to win the match and cinch the blue ribbon in the tourney.

Meanwhile the rest of the team is biding its time, and will break out of the hibernation shell up at Palo Alto this weekend against a reputedly very strong Indian aggregation. Golf has always been a featured sport at Stanford, and this year is no exception.

However, with Bariteau, Bob Cheim, Tony Sofa, and Al Shepard (to name four) to help the Spartan cause, Hubbard is confident that his team will give a good account of itself.

For those who are interested in the forthcoming civil service examinations, see information on bulletin board in front of the Placement office.

Students who were vaccinated previously for smallpox, and who were vaccinated again yesterday, are requested to report to the Health office tomorrow to have the vaccination read.

There will be a meeting of the Red Cross Student council Tuesday at 12:30 in room 32. Please be present. Elsa Anderson, Gerry Reynolds, Jeannette Manha, Barbara Healy, Jane Ellen Curry, Isabel Heath, Roberta Ramsay.

OUT OF THE HUDDLE

By CHARLES COOK
Sports Editor

It was pointed out to us the other day by our third assistant scrivener in charge of handicapping the track meets, one John Hubbard, that this season San Jose has not a single meet to grace

Spartan Field. All the dual meets, with the exception of Fresno, are with the larger schools, and consequently are run off away from home. Stanford and Cal can find no percentage in coming down here and performing before 20 or 30 spectators, nine-tenths of them being students. Fresno and San Jose have a home and home arrangement, and this year the meet is to be held at the Raisin City.

That leaves the local oval blank for the first season that we can recall. Therefore, unless State students make the trip to Palo Alto, Fresno, or Modesto, which is very unlikely, they won't have a single chance to see the Spartan cindermen in action this year.

(After Saturday's shellacking maybe no one gives a fig if he ever sees them.) But there are SOME students who would like to see the boys in action if only for one meet. The catch to this is that Coach Hartranft can't lure any opponents here. For that reason we have suggested to Tiny that the Spartans engage some suitable college in a telegraphic meet.

The idea isn't a new one, having been employed by San Jose some years ago against Drake. However, it could be run off the middle of some week in May and would give some of us a vague idea of just what we do have representing us in track and field.

As far as the student body is concerned, it would be more or less an intersquad affair with Spartan battling teammate in each event. Tiny has pledged himself to contact San Diego or some other suitable college for the meet. Dopester Hubbard, our Yogi who picks all the meets for us, cast the evil eye at the Aztecs and came out of his snood with the prediction that San Diego was one team the Spartans could topple this year.

So if you chance to drop out to the field some afternoon in the near future and see a bunch of guys, all in State uniforms, running around and looking as if they would need a saliva test when they finally settled down, then you can assume that the telegraphic meet is on.

S. J. NETMEN TRIP USF TENNIS TEAM 7 TO 2 YESTERDAY FOR SECOND VICTORY OF SEASON

Coach Ed Blesh's supposedly inexperienced tennis team added another scalp to their string yesterday afternoon by soundly trouncing the USF netmen 7-2 in a match played in the bay city. The locals displayed superior style in every department as they downed the Dons, reputed to have the strongest squad in and around San Francisco.

Dave Parnay, Spartan number one man, was at his best today as he put the skids to Warren Lowenbein, 7-5, 7-5. Lowenbein is well known in San Francisco tennis circles as one of the best, but Parnay took everything he had as he blasted him into submission.

In the number two spot, Raymond Chang ran into a snag and dropped his match to Fred Von Soosten 9-7, 6-3, although the Don player had to rally desperately to capture the verdict.

Cy Taylor, playing number three, got off to a bad start but made two furious comebacks in his match with Steve Chapralis, only to lose 6-0, 5-7, 7-5.

In the other singles matches, Frank San Filippo beat Ed Rossi 6-2, 6-1, Roy Diederichsen trounced Al Wells 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, and Jim Thorne took the measure of Jack McColgan 2-6, 6-3, 6-1.

San Jose gained a clean sweep in the doubles with Parnay and Chang, whipping Lowenbein and Chapralis 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, San Filippo and Landess downing Von Soosten and Rossi 3-6, 6-3, 6-0, and Thorne and Diederichsen tripping Wells and Armstrong 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

Archery Tourney Scheduled Here

San Jose State's Archery club will participate in the Inter-Collegiate Archery tournament Thursday on the campus from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Since not enough men showed an interest in the tournament, the shooting will be limited to women.

The Archery club will enter several teams in the Scholastic Round, shooting 24 arrows at 40 yards and 24 arrows at 30 yards, and a greater number of teams in the beginners' event of 36 arrows shot from 30 yards.

According to the Archery club executives, the targets will be up on the San Carlos turf every noon during the week for those who want to practice.

The Health office requests all students who were Schick-tested yesterday to report Friday noon to have the tests read.

Spartan Knights: Important meeting this evening at 7:15 sharp. There is a great deal of business to cover, so please be there on time. —Duke J. G.

for him; he looks forward to them as much as I do.

If it were possible I would like to send an Easter card to each individual on the Spartan Daily staff, but no cards of any kind are available to use here in the Mojave desert. My best wishes for a happy Easter season go along with this letter to each one of you who cooperates in editing this readable live "newspaper." Hoping it will continue to find its way to the 17th F. A. Observation Battalion.

Ex-Dailyite Wally Trabling—We received our Spartan Daily today, and with that and letters from Rudloff's, Sonntag's and Yakuborsky's girl friends the barracks were rocking with a cross chatter of news. In our barracks we have a Gamma Phi, some DSG's and DTO's; so we keep up the old hubbub and don't you think we don't still participate in school activities.

There seems to be an old tradition here; marching (with an accent on the left foot—we're keeping up that tradition). We ran onto some old Staters stationed here. When they came running in our barracks with a Spartan Daily in the air. Bill Vanderherst was one and Chris Eala, former music major, was another.

We are learning this new life very fast, which leads in many instances to humorous consequences.

Rudloff has the darnedest time getting up in the mornings. It's fortunate his last name begins with R, or else he'd never make roll call.

Saluting is our specialty. Last night we were sitting on our bunks listening to a lecture, and an officer entered the room. Some one yelled "Attention" (which has the same effect as yelling "Fire" in a crowded theater) and two of us dropped down on the shoulders of the fellows on the lower bunk who, upon standing up, lifted us up almost to the rafters, where we remained with reddened faces until the officer called "At ease." The laugh of the day came when one of the officers calling roll pronounced Yakuborsky's name correctly. "Yak" did not realize that

HOLLAND SPEAKS AT CHAPEL HOUR; HEADS CHOSEN

Completing the theme for this month, "The Inner Light," Bert Holland will speak at 12:35 today in the Little Theater at Chapel Hour.

His specific topic will be "Trust in the Inner Light." Special music will feature James Wright, tenor music major from Riverside. Ushers will be members of Beta Gamma Chi, on-campus social society.

At the regular meeting of the Chapel Hour committee yesterday the officers and committee heads for spring quarter were officially appointed. Comprising the committee are Sal Russo, chairman; Linda Jeanne Ferrel, secretary-treasurer; Mary Margaret Thompson, program coordinator; Virginia Jones, music chairman; Jean Worcester, decoration chairman; Jeanne Wright, ushering; Gordon Fine and Jack Costello, posters; Ed Kinney, technical; and publicity, Ora Lee Sample, Bert Holland, and Wilma Sabelman.

Important Delta Phi Upsilon meeting tonight at the San Jose Day Nursery at 7:15. All members please be present.—Charlotte Lund.

Will all those girls who took out green or brown yarn for squares last quarter from AWA please turn it in to Miss Dimmick by Thursday of this week. Important.

it was him until the officer had called it twice.

Most of us are being classified in the branches that we have requested. In another two months the ERC's will probably single out over the United States.

Talking about obstacle courses—the ones here are killers. Yesterday they took our flight out to the course and walked us around it, explaining as we went along. The rest of the day we were confined to the barracks to rest.

Well, the day is about finished, and the bugler has itchy lips, so I'll retreat for now.

Concert Series Opens Sunday

Sunday afternoon concerts by the San Jose State college concert band will furnish students and townspeople with park band music this year instead of the annual evening symphonic program.

The band is to be more compact this year "due to the lack of students," states Thomas E. Eagan, band director.

First concert in the series is to be held Monday and will feature marches, overtures, and novelties.

Miss Fitinghoff Tells About Social Work In San Jose

Stressing the need for making an individual want to co-operate, Miss Laura Fitinghoff told how it has been her experience in dealing with children to make them want to do things rather than forcing them to act, when she spoke in room H2 yesterday.

She spoke to a group of women interested in doing community work. The talk was sponsored by the Social Service committee of the SCA.

Miss Fitinghoff, from the County Welfare bureau, also told of the opportunities for social service in San Jose.

day following nominations; and subsequent elections will be held on the Friday and Wednesday following.

Thus nominations will be held on Monday, May 11. Elections for the seven councillors will be held on Monday, May 18, followed by the Presidential and Vice-Presidential vote on Friday, May 22.

By a vote of 3 to 2 the Council set May 28 as the Presidential election date; also the same day Spardi Gras is scheduled.

As a result there was a strong protest from many students with determined to make a personal protest to the Council at tonight's meeting. Don DeVoss, Joe Talbot and Joe Weltzenberg voted for the date, and Izzy Gold and Betty Hood voted against it.

President Taylor can vote only in case of a tie, and the other councillor, May Virginia Bristow, was ill and not present.

It now appears that Spardi Gras may be changed to June 4. Councillor Gold has stated that because 70 students are leaving to work at Yosemite on that day, it would be feasible to postpone it an additional week.

Other topics for discussion tonight are the Recognition Assembly and the Budget for next year. Gold is in charge of the budget hearing, which will be held in the near future.

Pi Omega Pi To Publish Commerce Bulletin Soon

Pi Omega Pi goes to press again on the annual bulletin put out by the Commerce department. The date of publication has not been determined yet, states Elden Mahoney, chairman of the committee to draw up the bulletin, but will definitely come out at the end of the quarter.

The bulletin will include a directory of all alumni members of Pi Omega Pi. Also there will be a directory of all members now in the service. Letters from the alumni will be printed, as they usually consist of greetings to fellow members.

"Did you know that"—will tell of the accomplishments of former members. One such will be Miss Norma Gillespie, secretary to Dr. Atkinson, president of Pi Omega Pi.

In connection with the Pi Omega's, Mahoney mentioned that there probably wouldn't be a dinner for members to meet business men. The reason for this was that jobs are easy to find now. In the past there were two dinners given in the year, primarily to meet and get acquainted with business men.
